(IV) The Main Idea in A Group of Photos

There is a main idea in each paragraph of an essay. In the same way, there is a main idea in each group of photos in a photo essay. Match the main ideas in the table below with the 3 groups of photos from P.1 to P.9. Then, write the main idea of each group of photos in the box above the group of photos.

- a. The parents are heartbroken at the news of the death of their children. Under China's one-child policy, their lost loved one, in most cases, is their only child.
- b. About 7000 schools collapse in the earthquake in Sichuan. Many children are injured or killed
- c. Grieving quake parents want facts. They fear there will not be a proper investigation into why so many schools collapsed in last month's earthquake in China.

(V) The theme of a Photo Essay

In an essay, all the paragraphs are linked together to tell us something about a subject, which is usually revealed in the title of the essay. Similarly, in a photo essay, the different groups of photos are combined together to tell us something about a subject, which is showed in the title of the photo essay.

The three groups of photos from P.1 to P.9 make up a photo essay. Which of the following is the best title for the photo essay?

- a. Many students die in Sichuan's Quake
- b. Children in Sichuan's Quake
- c. Parents' Accusation
